

During this project I was able to explore and implement some advanced features that are usually used in production level Apps such as: Firebase database, Firebase Storage, Google Places API and EventKit framework. The project implementation went very well, and I was able to implement all functionality mentioned in the proposal. One thing that I wish I had in mind was to use the UIScrollView in the view controllers to make them more adaptable to longer text. Also, I did my best to add some colors to the app but still not happy about it.

Note: At first, I've implemented the app using TableViews then I've changed my mind and used CollectionViews and I didn't delete the TableViews files (in case you are confused and asking why the files are there).
